LEAN BUSINESS FOR LINE MGRS

We know you're extremely busy, so we'll keep this simple:

When you execute better, minimise your waste and optimise process variation; profits go up.

Lean Business for Line Managers is a 1-day leader / line-manager training event that will help you better execute your business plan and increase profitability.

Here's how.

WE HAVE A MAJOR BUSINESS CHALLENGE TODAY!

1. There is disconnect between business management activities and the business improvement initiative.
2. Pressure to deliver continues to rise amidst the ebbs and flows of the economic environment.
3. KPI's cause focus to become siloed along the value chain.
4. Line managers and staff are overwhelmed with a plethora of improvement and change initiatives.
5. Lots of business improvement training takes place, there is little or no return.

THE LEAN BUSINESS SIMULATION CLOSES THE GAP

It develops the business management skills of people who occupy the pivotal positions in your mining business – line managers and your supervisors.

1. The simulation models the mining value stream from end to end
2. Participants run the mining process right through to delivery of product and model actual business behaviour
3. They experientially learn practical concepts for minimising waste, maximising product throughput, and optimising process variation
4. They improve the entire value stream performance in a collaborative manner
5. They learn how to utilise business improvement methods and resources for the purpose of achieving business objectives in the most effective way

WHY IT WORKS

It accelerates learning at the point where business improvement training has historically been inadequate in mining - the line manager and supervisor level.

It focuses attention at the right business level so that improvement takes place where the greatest value can be generated for the organisation.

It causes participants to consider improvement in a collaborative way with the entire business value stream in mind.
